SEJ policies and procedures

SEJ aims and scope

The Strategic Entrepreneurship Journal is a research journal that publishes original work recommended by a developmental, double-blind review process conducted by peer scholars. Strategic entrepreneurship involves innovation and subsequent changes that add value to society and change societal life in ways that have significant, sustainable, and durable consequences.

The SEJ is international in scope and acknowledges theory- and evidenced-based research conducted and/or applied in all regions of the world. It is devoted to content and quality standards based on scientific method, relevant theory, tested or testable propositions, and appropriate data and evidence, all replicable by others, and all representing original contributions.

The SEJ values contributions that lead to improved practice of managing organizations as they deal with the entrepreneurial process involving imagination, insight, invention, and innovation as well as the inevitable changes and transformations that result and benefit society.

General notes

Submitted manuscripts should not have been previously published and should not be submitted for publication elsewhere while they are under consideration by SEJ.

To be sure that manuscripts move through the review process smoothly and quickly, we ask authors to observe basic formatting and style requirements when submitting manuscripts:

Element	Description
Font	12-point readable font (preferably Times New Roman)
Line spacing	Double-spaced body text, single-spaced references
Margins	One inch (2.5 cm)
Page size	Letter (8.5 x 11) inches
Required layout (main document)	Abstract, body text, references, appendices, tables, and figures
Journal style	APA

Submissions that do not follow SEJ guidelines may have to be returned for revision and resubmission in order to ensure the timely flow of manuscripts through the editorial process. For more information, please review the SEJ style guidelines on page 11.

We suggest that you circulate your manuscript among colleagues before submitting to SEJ and make revisions based on their thoughtful suggestions. The reviewers should not be your first readers.

Initial manuscript submission

All manuscripts considered for submission must be sent to SEJ's online submission site, <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/SEJ>. In case of questions, please contact:

Article types accepted by the journal

Article type	Description	Page limit
Research Article	Detailed study that presents original research.	40
Research Pioneers	An article celebrating scholars who have made major contributions to the field of entrepreneurship; typically provided by invitation and written by scholars who are experts in the literature stream and/or close colleagues of a pioneer.	40
Special Issue Article	A study that presents original research that fits with a theme of an SEJ special issue. To view current special issue calls for papers, please visit https://www.strategicmanagement.net/SEJ/overview/special-issues/open-calls	40
Editorial	An article by the SEJ co-editors that express the views of the editors, often regarding the journal's policies, scholarly research in entrepreneurship, or an article published in the same issue.	40
Introduction	An introduction to an issue, usually authored by SEJ Co-editors or special issue guest editors.	15

Editorial process and policies

SEJ does not pre-screen submissions. To evaluate your paper, it must be submitted online at <https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/SEJ>.

Once a paper is submitted, the editorial process is generally as follows:

- Each SEJ paper is assigned to a Co-editor. She/he does an initial review of the paper and decides whether to assign an Associate Editor.
- The Co-editor or Associate Editor determines if the paper will go through the double-blind peer review process.
- If the manuscript passes the initial review, the Associate Editor selects the reviewers based on the scholarly expertise and availability of potential reviewers.

SEJ has a double-blind review process, which means the reviewers are not aware of the authors' identities and vice versa. Only the assigned Co-editor, Associate Editor, authors, and the SEJ editorial office staff view the reviews.

The SEJ Co-editors assign submitted manuscripts to Associate Editors based on the expertise of editors and the need to balance workload among the editors. In the cover letter accompanying a submission, authors may request specific Associate Editors or reviewers with whom the authors have no conflict of interest. The Co-editors will make a good faith effort to honor requests but cannot guarantee that requests can be met due to the need to balance editorial and reviewer workload, as well as editorial discretion regarding the appropriate match of editorial and reviewer expertise to the submission.

Ethical policies

The Strategic Entrepreneurship Journal holds to the "Guidelines for Professional Conduct" developed by the Strategic Management Society, which is located here:

https://www.strategicmanagement.net/media/download/conferences/home/governance/bylaws-articles/_leftColumn/additional-governing-docs/professional-conduct/file

See in particular, Point 10, "EDITORIAL AND REVIEW PROCESS."

Plagiarism

For every submission, SEJ uses CrossCheck's iThenticate, a plagiarism detection software, to detect and quantify any duplicated text and possible plagiarism. To find out more about CrossCheck, please visit <http://www.crossref.org/crosscheck.html>.

Copyright and open access

Copyright permissions

Permission Grants (PGs) are needed at the time of submission if the manuscript contains extracts, including illustrations, from other copyright works (this includes material from online or intranet sources). It is the author's responsibility to obtain written permission from the owners of the publishing rights to reproduce such extracts using the Wiley Permission Request Form. For more information, please visit <https://authorservices.wiley.com/author-resources/book-authors/prepare-your-manuscript/permissions.html>.

If your paper is accepted, the author identified as the formal corresponding author for the paper will receive an email prompting them to login into Author Services, where via the Wiley Author Licensing Service (WALS) they will be able to complete the license agreement on behalf of all authors on the paper.

For authors signing the copyright transfer agreement

If the OnlineOpen option (see below for more information) is not selected, the corresponding author will be presented with the copyright transfer agreement (CTA) to sign. CTA Terms and Conditions can be found here: http://authorservices.wiley.com/bauthor/faqs_copyright.asp

For authors choosing OnlineOpen

Online Open is available to authors of primary research articles who wish to make their article available to non-subscribers on publication or whose funding agency requires grantees to archive the final version of their article. With Online Open, the author, the author's funding agency, or the author's institution pays a fee to ensure that the article is made available to non-subscribers upon publication via Wiley Online Library, as well as deposited in the funding agency's preferred archive. For a full list of terms and conditions, see http://wileyonlinelibrary.com/onlineopen#OnlineOpen_Terms.

Any authors wishing to send their paper to OnlineOpen will be required to complete the payment form available from the Wiley website at: https://authorservices.wiley.com/bauthor/onlineopen_order.asp.

Prior to acceptance, there is no requirement to inform the editorial office that you intend to publish your paper OnlineOpen if you do not wish to. All OnlineOpen articles are treated in the same way as any other article. They go through the journal's standard peer review process and will be accepted or rejected based on their own merit.

If the OnlineOpen option is selected, the corresponding author will have a choice of the following Creative Commons License Open Access Agreements (OAA):

- Creative Commons Attribution License OAA
- Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial License OAA
- Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial -NoDerivs License OAA

To preview the terms and conditions of these open access agreements please visit the Copyright FAQs hosted on Wiley Author Services http://authorservices.wiley.com/bauthor/faqs_copyright.asp and visit <http://www.wileyopenaccess.com/details/content/12f25db4c87/Copyright--License.html>.

If you select the OnlineOpen option and your research is funded by The Wellcome Trust and members of the Research Councils UK (RCUK), you will be given the opportunity to publish your article under a CC-BY license supporting you in complying with Wellcome Trust and Research Councils UK requirements. For more information on this policy and the journal's compliant self-archiving policy, please visit: <http://www.wiley.com/go/funderstatement>.

Note to contributors on deposit of accepted version

Funder arrangements: Certain funders, including the NIH, members of the Research Councils UK (RCUK) and Wellcome Trust require deposit of the Accepted Version in a repository after an embargo period. Details of funding arrangements are set out at the following website: <http://www.wiley.com/go/funderstatement>. Please contact the Journal production editor if you have additional funding requirements.

Institutions: Wiley has arrangements with certain academic institutions to permit the deposit of the Accepted Version in the institutional repository after an embargo period. Details of such arrangements are set out at the following website: <http://www.wiley.com/go/funderstatement>

Early View

SEJ is covered by Wiley's Early View publishing service. Early View articles are complete full-text articles published online in advance of their publication in a printed issue. Articles are therefore available as soon as they are ready, rather than having to wait for the next scheduled print issue. Early View articles are complete and final. They have been fully reviewed, revised and edited for publication, and the authors' final corrections have been incorporated. Because they are in final form, no changes can be made after online publication. The nature of Early View articles means that they do not yet have volume, issue or page numbers, so Early View articles cannot be cited in the traditional way. They are therefore given a Digital Object Identifier (DOI), which allows the article to be cited and tracked before it is allocated to an issue. After print publication, the DOI remains valid and can continue to be used to cite and access the article.

Costs to authors

There is no fee for submitting manuscripts to SEJ. The only fee(s) associated with publishing an accepted article are optional.

These optional costs include:

- Color figures in print: The first color figure is $500, and subsequent color figures are $100 apiece. Color figures appear in the digital version for free.
- Extra print issues: The Strategic Management Society is happy to offer access to our SEJ print journal inventory to SMS members only. We invite SMS members to request selected available copies free of charge as a thank you to our members. We ask that members pay for the costs of shipping and handling of the journals and will also provide an opportunity for an optional donation to our Society. If you are looking for an issue with a specific author or submission, you can log into Wiley's online database to perform a search (current SMS membership is required for online access). Please send a message to sms@strategicmanagement.net with the issue information, and we will confirm if the issue is available.

SEJ style guidelines

Organization and basic manuscript formatting

Element	Description
Font	12-point readable font (preferably Times New Roman)
Line spacing	Double-spaced body text, single-spaced references
Margins	One inch (2.5 cm)
Page size	Letter (8 ½ x 11) inches
Required layout (main document)	Abstract, body text, references, appendices, tables and figures
Journal style	APA

We strongly suggest that you limit the paper size to 40 pages, which includes figures and tables. References should be single spaced to conserve manuscript space. The language of the journal is American English. Please be sure that your paper is double spaced and uses a 12-point readable font and one-inch margins on all sides. Your text must be left justified.

Title page

This should be a separate file from the main document. Please list the full names, titles, email addresses, and affiliations (with complete addresses) of all authors on the title page. A running head (a short title of up to 60 characters) of your choice should appear on the title page as well. For indexing purposes, kindly include five (5) keywords that describe your paper.

Main document

Please double-space the body text (font size 12) and use one-inch margins. Do not include any author names, author affiliations, or acknowledgements in the main document. Please ensure that there are no edits (such as Track Changes and comment bubbles) showing in the text.

Abstract

Please supply a one-paragraph abstract of up to 125 words. This is a precise summary of your entire paper, not just your conclusions, and it must be able to stand alone, separate from the rest of the paper. Please do not include citations to other works in the abstract.

Acknowledgements

The names of any sponsors of your research, including grant numbers and/or people you would like to thank, may be included in an acknowledgements section. When submitting a paper, acknowledgements should be included ONLY on the title page and not in the text of the paper. If your paper is accepted, the acknowledgements will move to the main paper, at the end of the text and right before the references.

Figures and tables

Please do not incorporate your figures and/or tables into the text of your article. Please include an instruction such as “INSERT TABLE 1 HERE” where appropriate. Figures and tables should appear at the end of the manuscript, after the references section. Here are some additional guidelines regarding figures and tables:

- It is best if your tables are editable (not images).
- All tables and figures should be numbered and include legends.
- Please use consistent lettering and sizing in original artwork.
- Each table and figure must have placement instructions within the body text to indicate where these items should go (e.g., “Insert Table 1 Here”).
- Figure files:
 - Should be in high resolution (at least 300dpi for printing purposes), and the following formats are preferred: .tiff and .png.
 - Will appear in color online (if submitted in color) but will appear in black and white in print.

File formats

At the submission stage, SEJ can accept files in Word and PDF.

- Before you submit your materials, you will be given the chance to review your manuscript as a PDF. Please review the PDF before submitting. If any part of the paper does not convert properly, please work on the formatting before submitting.
- If the paper is not readable after the system converts it to PDF, we will send it back to you for formatting revisions.

Once your paper is accepted, we will request that files be provided in Word (.doc, .docx, .rtf).

- Tables must be included in an editable format, not as pictures.
- We can also accept LaTeX files at this point. If you choose to upload LaTeX files, please ensure there is also a PDF that shows us the placement of the various pieces.
- If you have an appendix intended to be online-only, it may be submitted in any format. Online appendix material will not be copy edited or revised, so please ensure it appears exactly as you would like.

Citations and references

SEJ uses APA style. Use the author-date method of in-text citation. The author’s last name and the year of publication for the source should appear in the text; for example (Jones, 1998). If a direct quote is included, the page number should appear as well; for example (Jones, 1998, p. 182).

When a cited work has six or more authors, the form (main author et al., year) is to be used. If there are five or fewer authors, all names should be included at the first text citation and et al. used thereafter.

When reference is made to more than one work by the same author(s) published in the same year, identify each citation in the text in the following manner: (Collins, 2005a, 2005b).

If necessary, cite unpublished or personal work in the text, but please do not include it in the reference list. When your parenthetical citation includes two or more works, order them alphabetically, separated by a semi-colon (Smith, 2002; Thompson, 1983).

All references must have a corresponding citation in the text and vice versa.

Reference style

A complete list of sources should appear in alphabetical order in the reference list at the end of the paper.

Examples of correct referencing style:

Appendices and supplementary material

Appendices are placed after the references. If there is only one Appendix, no number is needed after it (i.e., Appendix 1). If you have an appendix that should be published online only, please call it the “online appendix” throughout the article. It should be a file separate from the main article.

General APA guidelines

SEJ generally follows APA style. Here is a brief summary of common style issues:

Element	Description
Abbreviations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Spell out all abbreviations at first use in the body of the article, and use abbreviated forms thereafter; for example, return on investment (ROI). If an abbreviated form is used only once, it should be spelled out. This is for the benefit of readers, including students, some of whom may not be familiar with the meanings of all abbreviations.
Footnotes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Footnotes, rather than endnotes, are used. They are incorporated into the text (shown at bottom of the page).
Headings	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Please number sections. • Heading style varies, depending on the level. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Heading 1: ALL CAPS, bold ○ Heading 2: Sentence case, bold ○ Heading 3: Sentence case, bold ○ Heading 4: Sentence case, bold ○ Heading 5: Sentence case, bold, with full-stop, run-on with text
Hypotheses	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify each hypothesis by number. If you want to abbreviate the hypothesis number in the text, please be sure to note that when first presenting the hypothesis. Here is an example of SEJ style: Hypothesis (H1). Here is the text for Hypothesis 1.
Numbers	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Numbers one to nine are spelled out, and numbers 10 and above appear as numerals. The main exceptions are when numbers refer to ratings, code numbers, or precise measurement (i.e., used with units) (Ex: numerals for number of participants; 7-point scale, but three items, factor 5, score 4). • If a sentence begins with a number, the number must be spelled out. It is usually easier to rephrase the sentence. • Commas are used in numbers 1,000 or higher. SEJ uses American style, so decimal points (not decimal commas) are used. For instance, two-hundred-thousand is 200,000 (not 200.000 or 200 000) and five thousand dollars and 50 cents is $5,000.50 (not 5.000,50 or 5 000,50). Please be sure to use American style in the text, tables and figures.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A zero (0) should be used before the decimal point with numbers that are less than 1 when the statistic can exceed 1 (Ex: 0.23 cm; Cohen’s $d = 0.70$). Do not use a zero before a decimal fraction when the statistic cannot be greater than 1 (Ex: correlations, proportions, and levels of significance, such as $p = .028$).
Punctuation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Commas appear before the final “and” (also “or”) in a series. • Double, rather than single, quotation marks are used. • En dashes (–) rather than hyphens (-) are used to denote ranges, for example, 1996–2000; pages 124–155. • Em dashes (—) rather than hyphens (--) are used to separate a thought or phrase from the surrounding sentence. • The journal uses italicized rather than underlined text • Commas and periods always appear inside quotation marks, even if those quotation marks are used to signify the special definition of a word or phrase. • Multiple citations are handled as followed: (Smith, 1980; Kennedy & Jones, 1999)
Spacing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Leave one space between sentences, after punctuation, etc. • Leave one space in mathematical equations or results (Ex: $p \geq .70$). • Blocks of long quotations are indented and single spaced. They do not need quotation marks.
Symbols	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ampersands (&) should not be used in the text unless it is a commonly used expression (e.g., R&D), part of a universally known product (e.g., M&Ms), or included in a company name (e.g., Standard & Poor’s). Ampersands may also be used with author names in citations, but only in parentheses, and references. • Percent is spelled out in regular text, but a % sign is used in parenthesized text and figures.

Editorial assistance to non-native English speakers

Every accepted SEJ article goes through copy editing, but this level of copy editing is very light.

If your paper is in need of additional editing (improving the writing, grammar, punctuation, formatting, etc.), you may want to enlist the services of a professional copy editor. If you do not have access to a copy editor, you may wish to contact Wiley’s English Language Editing Services:

<https://wileyeditingservices.com/en/english-language-editing/>. Please verify pricing upfront, as it is not provided free of charge.
